INSPIRED BY LOVE STORY

It all began with Sotaro Araki, a merchant from Nagasaki, who lived between the late 16th and the early 17th century. During this period, Japanese traders actively flocked to trading ports in Southeast Asia and as the most famous trading destination at the time, Hoi An or Faifo, its former name, welcomed thousands of Japanese merchants. Allegedly accumulating a substantial fortune from his trades across the region, Sotaro fell in love with Princess Ngoc Hoa, a member of royal family native to Hue, upon his visit to Vietnam in 1619 and married her. The marriage is regarded as the first to involve a Vietnamese citizen and an international at the time.
